About the Heritage Advisory Service

The Strathfield Council Heritage Advisory Service is one of the heritage conservation incentives offered to owners of properties listed as a heritage item, located in a heritage conservation area or in the vicinity of a heritage property under the Strathfield Planning Scheme Ordinance (SPSO) and/or draft Local Environmental Plan (LEP).

The objective of providing a free heritage advisory service is to:

- ensure that quality and professional advice is provided to owners of heritage properties to ensure that heritage properties within the Strathfield Municipality maintain their heritage significance.
- assist in reducing the overall cost of conservation work, making conservation work more feasible for owners of heritage properties and thus providing a conservation incentive.

This service involves receiving advice from Council's Heritage Advisor regarding proposed renovations, alterations, additions or restoration. Advice from Council's heritage advisor is restricted to a one hour appointment. During the appointment, applicants will be advised on how the heritage significance of a property or conservation area can be best maintained or enhanced through renovations or restoration works and advice on Council's planning codes and development assessment requirements in regard to any potential restoration or renovation.
